We've Sacrificed Woolens Prior to Remodeling.

The most deplorable tailoring sacrifices Washington ever witnessed are occasioned by the remodeling of our two great tailoring establishments. The contractor takes possession Wednesday, and he has warned us to clear out these stocks or suffer the consequences of ruin. The entire stocks of woolens to the last vard have been paraded out and we've slashed prices irrespectively. You can gauge other values by this one. All of our fine $12.50 and $15 and $16 woolens, in a big array of neat and stylish patterns, to be made up in our own inimitable fashion.

A faultless fit, a stylish suit, and absolute satisfaction are parts of this offer. Ou tailors are the best. No sweat-shop work under any conditions. And let the price of this suit-$9.17-be a reminder of our branch store, 917 Pa. ave., where and a Cake Walk Enliven Guests. Special Correspondence of The Evening Star. ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS, Va.,

The past week at the Rockbridge Alum Springs of Virginia has been filled with much gaiety. The cake walk of the season, entertainments, germans and card parties have kept the guests enjoying a continual round of pleasures. Bowling has been in dulged in by many, while coaching parties up the mountains and through the picturesque scenery of the vicinity has ben a daily occurrence. The guests are increasing daily, both those for pleasure and those seeking the medicinal qualities of the springs. Among those from Washington may be mentioned: Mr. F. R. Sale, Mr. and Mrs. John Wing, Mr. Harry Gitt and Mrs. W. B. Magruder. Mr. G. S. Weaver of Washington has re turned home, after an enjoyable visit at the springs. Managing Receiver James A. Frazier is again at the springs after an absence of everal weeks.

Mr. Wm. G. McCormick, a wealthy New York broker, is expected in a few days. Mr. McCormick was at the springs in April when he gave a large house party, which was brought here in a special car. Already arrangements are being made for entertain ments, germans, card parties and suppers to be given in his honor.

A game of seven-handed euchre was enjoyed on the lawn yesterday morning.

The prizes were carried off by Mrs. J. Edmond Waddell and Mr. Pope.
The weekly german last Friday night proved the usual success. The ball room of the Grand Hotel was well-filled with guests from the hotels and cottages, while the at-tractiveness of the scene was increased by he brilliant dresses of those who participat ed in the dance.

Wednesday night there was an impromptu entertainment given by the guests, which afforded much enjoyment to the large num-ber that filled the ball room of the Grand Hotel. The program was opened with a plano solo by Professor Beardsworth, which was heartly appreciated. This was followed by vocal solos by Mrs. B. W. Wood-ruff of Washington assilos's bornaide. New Heart, Crescents and Horse thoroughly captivated the audience. Mus was furnished by an orchestra, under the direction of Professor Beardsworth.

Indestructible Pearl and Dull Jet | The cake walk of the season took place last evening at the ball room of the Grand Hotel. It was given in true old Virginia phur Springs, Millsborough and the Alle-ghany. The figures and steps of the several couples proved very comical at times. The Increasing Relations With Denmark. Vice Consul Blom, at Copenhagen, reports to the State Department, as a sure sign of the rapidly increasing business relations between the kingdom of Denmark and the United States, that the committee for exchange quotations at the Copenhagen bourse has been instructed by royal decree to quote the rate for three days' sight drafts on New York every Tuesday and Friday. The exchange rate on places in the United States has never before been publicly quoted at Copenhagen.

Yachting Trip Postponed.

Secretary Root was to have made a trip down the Potomac this afternoon on the naval yacht Sylph as the guest of Acting Secretary Allen, but the trip was post-poned indefinitely on account of the un-favorable weather.

Several Pretty Weddings and Thos

The date for the marriage of Miss Havemeyer and Lieut. Winslow has not yet been announced, but is expected to occur at Newport.

Admiral Sampson's reception aboard his flagship vesterday at Bar Harbor was changed into a scene of mourning by the sudden death of Mrs. Sands, whose home at Glen Ridge, N. J., adjoined the Sampson home. This event also caused the absence of the admiral from the ball last night which was given in his honor. Miss Lillie Livermore is spending a week or two at Atlantic City. Few white dresses were worn at the Newport Casino hop this week. In fact, they were conspicuously absent. The most brilliant shades were worn in crepes and tulles. Miss Fifi Potter wore crimson trimmed with black velvet ribbon, and landed with red cherries, and Mrs. rich's gown revived the pompadour effects in pink and blue. Mr. and Mrs. Lars Anderson have arrived at Newport at last, and are stopping with little daughter, are at Narragansett Pier, where they will remain until September. Master Robert Bowmen Matthews celebrated his fourth birthday by a party to his little friends at the Hotel Takoma, where his parents are spending some time. The party was a great success, thoroughly enjoyed by the eighteen children who took part. Master Bob himself made a pretty picture seated at the head of the long table, with his golden curis and blue eyes set off by a pretty costume of pink and white. He responded to his health by an amusing little speech. Master Robert Bowmen Matthews cele amusing little speech.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brannon for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ella Brannon, to Mr. Walter Lee Burke of Lytle, Ga., on Wed-nesday, August 16. The ceremony will be performed at the bride's residence at Chickamauga Park. During her residence in Washington Miss Brannon made a host of friends and was deservedly popular.

JOHN VINTON DAHLGREN.

He Died at Colorado Springs of Consumption Yesterday. A telegraph dispatch from Colorado Springs announced the death there yesterday of John Vinton Dahlgren of this city Mr. Dahlgren, son of the late Admiral John A. Dahlgren, U. S. N., was born at Valparaiso, Chile on April 22, 1868, his father being a that time in command of the South Pacific squadron. Mr. Dahlgren received his early education from the Society of Jesus, and was graduated from Georgetown University in 1889, being the valedictorian of his class. He then studied law, receiving successively the degrees of LL. B. and LL. M., in addi-

Mr. Dahlgren's mother, Admiral Dahlgren's second wife, was the daughter of Samuel Finley Vinton of Ohio, one of the leaders of the old whig party. She was a woman of great force of character and literary attainments. Her work, "Etiquette of Social Life in Washington," called forth a storm of condemnation and praise at the ime of its publication. June 29, 1889. Mr Dahlgren married Elizabeth, daughter of the late Joseph Wilhelm Drexel, the banker, at whose house on Mount McGregor Gen-eral Grant died, and his widow and one son, John Vinton Dahlgren, born June 30, 1892, survive him. Mr. Dahlgren's brother, Eric also maried a Miss Drexel, and he and his sister, the wife of Dr. Josiah Pierce of this city, are now the only surviving children of Admiral Dahlgren.

After his graduation in law Mr. Dahlgren removed to New York City and for a time practiced his profession. In March, 1895, he was appointed first assistant attorney in the department of buildings there, and so well did he fill this place that when General Thomas Ewing resigned his place as attorney and chief of the law office on January 1, 1886, Mr. Dahigren was promoted to the vacant place. In the course of his incumbency of the office of first assistant attorney he collated and published all the laws relating to his department, under the title of "The Dahlgren Building Law Man-

In December, 1896, ocular trouble, superin duced by overwork, compelled Mr. Dahlgren to resign. On March 25, 1898. Governor Black appointed him commissioner on the state board of charities. He was active in state board or charities. He was active in politics and always a consistent republican on local and national questions.

After his retirement from the building de-partment Mr. Dahlgren did not resume the practice of the law, but was actively en-gaged in looking after shipping and other business interests. He was president of the New York and Pennsylvania Brick, and Terra Cotta Company at the time of his
